Russians Boycott Berlin Talks In U.N.

Say East-West Issue Abuses U. N. Charter

Paris, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Fiery Andrei Vishinsky announced today Russia will boycott the Berlin debate in the United Nations Security Council.

He demanded the floor and disclosed his decision immediately after the council voted 9 to 2 to hear full details of the East-West dispute over Berlin.

Vishinsky, the Soviet deputy foreign minister, left up in the air the question of whether he would be present when the council resumes its meetings tomorrow.

Made Position Clear
Smiling broadly at newsmen who pressed for his plans, he said:

"I made my position perfectly clear. That is, I am not going to take part in deliberations on this question."

"Do you mean you will not attend—there is a difference between attending and taking part," one reporter queried.

"I see no differences," Vishinsky replied.

Vishinsky and Dmitri Z. Manuilsky, foreign minister for the Soviet Union, voted alone against the other members of the council in the decision to hear the Berlin debate.

The United States, Britain, France, China, Syria, Argentina, Colombia, Belgium and Canada were in favor.

Sums Up Arguments
Then, in a short statement to the tense council, Vishinsky summed up his arguments, that the council decision was illegal and the Berlin crisis should be handled by the four-power council of foreign ministers.

In a calm voice and without gestures, he announced the decision to boycott:

"The delegation of the U.S.S.R. wishes to state, in the name of the government of the U.S.S.R., that the adoption by the majority of the Security Council of the present item for consideration constitutes a violation of Article 107 of the charter, according to which such a question should be decided by the powers responsible for the occupation of Germany."

"This question should not have been handed to the Security Council. Accordingly, the Soviet delegation declares that it will not participate in the consideration of the Berlin question in the Security Council."

Then he sat back, adjusted the papers on his desk, and waited for the council to go ahead. He did not walk out, and no member of his delegation made any motion to leave.

Dewey Advised Situation Between U.S., Russ Critical

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's top adviser on foreign affairs told him today that United States relations with Russia are more critical now than at any time since the war. This view of the tense world situation was presented to the republican presidential nominee by John Foster Dulles, a U. S. delegate to the United Nations General Assembly, it was learned tonight on excellent authority.

Dulles conferred with Dewey for three and a half hours this afternoon after flying from Paris, where he has been attending the U. N. assembly sessions and participating in discussions of the Berlin blockade crisis.

The only public statement after the conference was one by Dewey saying that he and Dulles had discussed the "current international situation with particular reference to the grave problems created by the policies of Soviet Russia."

But a source thoroughly familiar with what transpired at the session, gave details. The source would not be quoted by name.

Dulles, it was understood, told Dewey he felt that relations with Russia were considerably worse than they were four months ago and that they were never worse at any time since the war than now.

HUSBAND REFUSES TO TALK; WIFE GRANTED
DIVORCE ON CRUELTY

Des Moines, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Eunice Wilkinson, 43, testified in district court today that her husband wouldn't talk to her and wrote notes demanding "yes" or "no" answers.

She said Wilkinson started handing her notes in the morning when he left for work stating verbally that he wanted an answer when he got home. Sometimes he even passed notes to her when he saw her downtown, but would not speak, she testified.

She was granted a divorce on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. They had been married since last January.

Key Figures In Berlin Crisis

In a new verbal attack upon airlift operations, Soviet Lt. Gen. H. Dratvin (left), deputy chief of the Soviet military administration in Berlin, charged the United States and Great Britain with more than 700 violations of "elementary rules of flying discipline." Meanwhile in London, western powers received a note from Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov (right) asking a four-power foreign ministers' council to consider the Berlin impasse and the entire situation.

Lewis Opens UMW Meeting With Attack On President

Cincinnati, Oct. 5.—(AP)—John L. Lewis opened the United Mine Workers convention today with a personal attack on President Truman, but he withheld direct endorsement of republican candidate Thomas E. Dewey in the presidential campaign.

Lewis had indicated in advance he would criticize Mr. Truman, who sued court injunctions to halt coal strikes in 1946 and 1948.

The 3000 delegates, some of them equipped with noise makers, cheered as Lewis berated the president. Four bands participated in a demonstration for the union leader, both before and after his speech.

"It devolves on you," he said to the delegates, "to do something about it when you have a chance to say who shall be the next president of the United States."

Of Mr. Truman, Lewis said: "He is a man totally unfitted for the position. His principles are elastic. He is careless with the truth."

"He is a malignant, scheming sort of an individual who is dangerous not only to the United Mine Workers, but dangerous to the United States of America."

In Washington, there was no immediate White House reaction. George M. Harrison, chairman of the Democratic National Committee's labor division and head of the

Barkley Declares
Republican Win
Would Harm West

Greeley, Colo., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Senator Alben W. Barkley, Democratic vice presidential nominee, declared here tonight a Republican victory in November might return the west to "the status of an economic colony of eastern finance."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the Colorado State College of Education as he pushed his airborne campaign further westward, the Kentucky senator attacked the GOP power policy and pointed to what he said was Democratic friendliness to the west's reclamation program.

Typical of the attitudes of the two major political parties, he said, was Herbert Hoover's veto of the Muscle Shoals bill in 1931 and enactment of the Tennessee Valley Authority Act by the Democrats two years later.

80th Congress
Kept Pledge To Cut Taxes: Brooks

La Salle, Ill., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Republican Senator C. Wayland Brooks said tonight that recent income tax reductions show that the 80th Congress "kept its pledge to reduce the cost of government."

Brooks carried his campaign for reelection into La Salle county with speeches today at Streator and tonight at La Salle. In the Streator speech he reviewed his earlier declarations that farmers had found the GOP-controlled Congress very generous with them.

In the speech prepared for a La Salle rally tonight he said that election of the Dewey-Warren ticket is "the only way to be sure communists and other subversive elements" will be eliminated from federal government.

He said the Republicans cut income taxes "despite three presidential vetoes by enacting a tax relief program which gave 71 per cent of its benefits to individuals with incomes of less than $5,000."

Lucas Attacks Dewey In Atomic Energy Statement

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) said tonight that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey "is lined up with the selfish group which is determined to extract limitless profit from the atom."

Lucas attacked the GOP presidential nominee's recent statements on development of atomic energy. In a State Democratic campaign speech prepared for delivery at a Rockford rally, Lucas said:

"The best indication that Governor Dewey is in the hands of those who would gorge themselves with profits from the fruits of atomic research is his suggestion that the most marvelous scientific discovery of the 20th Century be turned over for exploitation to selfish groups at the expense of the whole country."

"As long as I remain in the Senate, I shall resist every move which would turn the unfettered control of the atomic energy program over, either to the military or to private industry, or to any group which is not exclusively civilian."

Kawakita Receives Death Sentence
For Treason

Los Angeles, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Tomoya Kawakita, 28-year-old American-born interpreter in a wartime Japanese prison camp, was sentenced to death today for treason.

Federal Judge William C. Mathes sentenced Kawakita to die in the lethal gas chamber. The neatly-dressed defendant stood expressionless in the court room as he heard himself given the extreme penalty.

The convicted man's mother, Mrs. Tose Kawakita, was sitting in the courtroom, buried her face in a handkerchief after sentence was pronounced.

To judgment of death followed a day of argument in which Kawakita's counsel sought to have the verdict of guilty set aside on grounds that coercion and undue influence had been exerted upon the jury.

The black-robed federal judge, speaking before he pronounced sentence, said Kawakita's crime "is against the country of his birth and not against a few prisoners of war."

"Throughout history, treason always has been the most abhorred crime," said Judge Mathes. "A murderer violates a few, a traitor violates all. His life, if spared, would not be worth living."

The federal jurist referred to the fact that while Kawakita was serving an interpreter in a Japanese prisoner of war camp, some 700 U. S. servicemen of Japanese parentage gave up their lives for America.

Kawakita's attorney immediately served notice of appeal.

Warren Stresses
Importance Of Small Business

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Gov. Earl Warren, calling for equal business opportunity for all, said here tonight that economic traffic enforcement is necessary to keep the "road hogs" of monopoly off America's industrial highway.

"The little jeeps of small business should have a chance to keep moving, just as well as the 10-ton truck of big business," he asserted.

The republican vice presidential candidate came into the coal mining Kanawha valley following a day of campaigning across West Virginia, where he appealed to voters to back up the Dewey-Warren ticket with a GOP Congress.

Warren gave no hint of the coolness existing between Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and West Virginia's Republican Senator Chapman Revercomb over differences springing from Revercomb's stand on the displaced persons bill.

Marshall Recalled
From U.N. Parley
To Make Report

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The White House announced late today that President Truman has called Secretary of State Marshall home from the United Nations meeting in Paris to report on the international situation.

Marshall will make his report Saturday.

The announcement came as the President was preparing to leave Washington tomorrow on an election campaign tour through Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and Delaware. He will cut short the tour by one day to meet Marshall here.

The announcement coincided with a meeting between Governor Thomas E. Dewey, republican presidential nominee, and his top foreign policy advisor, John Foster Dulles, who flew back from Paris yesterday, where he reported to have told Dewey in Albany that American relations with Russia are more critical now than at any time since the war.

The White House announcement did not disclose what the President desires to discuss with Marshall, although the Berlin crisis and the critical conflict between Russia and the western powers in the United Nations sessions at Paris appeared certain topics of their talks.

Neither did White House officials or State Department informants hint at any changes in American foreign policy as a result of the session between the President and his Secretary of State.

AUCTIONS 2 PAIR OF WORLD SERIES DUCATS
FOR NEARLY $3,800

Stoneham, Mass., Oct. 5.—(AP)—A market owner today auctioned off two pairs of world series tickets for nearly $3,800 to aid a burned-out Stoneham family.

The winners were Cecil H. Hill, Woburn, and William Fitzpatrick, Stoneham.

James McDonald, who put his tickets on the block, turned over the proceeds to Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. O'Connell, three of whose children died in a fire which destroyed their dwelling eight days ago.

Governor Cites Illinois Public Health Progress

Pontiac, Ill., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Governor Green, campaigning for reelection, said tonight there has been "extensive improvement" in public health services during his two terms in office.

"Illinois has made perhaps more rapid progress in this field than any other state," the Republican governor asserted in his prepared speech.

Green said he proposes to expand a state-federal hospital construction program "until modern hospital services are within the reach of every Illinois family."

Part of his state health program, he added, "education in health matters will be stressed more and more, in the schools and through channels of public information."

Syrian Delegate
Unimpressed By Vishinsky, Sleeps

Paris, Oct. 5.—(AP)—White-haired Faris El Khouri of Syria fell asleep during today's tense security council session on the Berlin crisis.

Russia's Andrei Vishinsky called him back to consciousness saying, "I wish the distinguished delegate of Syria the best of health, if he could hear me. I beg his pardon for disturbing him, but I cannot do otherwise."

Alexander Parodi of France nudged El Khouri awake, with some difficulty.

Vishinsky then proceeded to reply to the speech made earlier by El Khouri explaining why Syria would vote against the Soviet Union on the proposal to place Berlin on the council's agenda.

The senior air officer who told of Soviet flying strength in Germany said the bulk of the fleet consisted of low-level attack fighter bombers. They are improved versions of the Sturmovik which the Russians used effectively in ground support work against the Germans, he commented.

The figure of 4500 is believed to be about 10 times the available American aircraft in Germany.

No airlift pilot was able to confirm that the Russians actually held parachute practice in the air corridor. The Russians announced in mid-morning that the practice would start immediately. At 11:20 a.m. they notified the four-power air center that the jumping had ended.

More than 100 days old, the airlift so far has resulted in three fatal crashes which took nine lives. This rate is about 20 per cent below the world-wide average for the air force.

Stevenson Blasts
State Department Of Conservation

Glen Ellyn, Ill., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic candidate for governor, charged today the Illinois conservation department is "a pay-roller's paradise and a grafter's gaming ground."

In a campaign speech, Stevenson said that Governor Dwight H. Green, his republican opponent, had promised in 1940 that the conservation director "will not be a political stooge nor will his wardens be untrained political hangers-on."

"That's a precise description of the conservation department today," Stevenson said. "Green traded his pious promises for a bowl of political plums."

"But I'm glad to hear Livingston Osborne, the director of the department, deny that there are more game wardens in some counties than rabbits. I wish he would explain why the state paid 10 times the appraised value for the Wolf Lake Property and why some public funds got misplaced in the Lee county purchase."

Illinois Works
For Improved
Labor Relations

Chicago, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce announced today it will sponsor a "grass roots" approach to better personnel and labor relations in the state's industry and business.

John Slezak, Sycamore, chairman of the state chamber's committee to handle the program, said Illinois is the first state to set up such an approach. Just as it was first to set up its successful similar work in agriculture-industry relations.

The chairman, who is president of the Turner Brass Works at Sycamore, said the farm-industry program has resulted in establishing 95 local committees in 81 of the state's counties to hold both segments of the economy to understand each other's problems.

He said at least four other state chambers are setting up a similar agriculture-industry program and that inquiries already are coming in regarding the management-labor committees.

By setting up committees at the local level, the state chamber hopes to "bring about adjustments and understandings which will be essential to each city, township and county," Slezak said.

Barrett Accuses Peoria Officials Of 'Smear' Methods

Chicago, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Attorney General George F. Barrett today accused officials of the Peoria Association of Commerce of using the state's investigation of Peoria gambling conditions to aid a "partisan political smear campaign."

The officials, he said, are "harassing" his office and attempting to "embarrass and impede" his investigation.

The attorney general said they spoke of gambling conditions in public and either denied they existed or denied any knowledge of them in private.

Barrett's remarks were contained in a blistering reply to charges of the association that the state's investigation of alleged vice, gambling and corruption in Peoria county is "headed up whitewash alley."

"I say to you that you are babbling out of the depths of your ignorance," Barrett said in a letter to Edward P. Keefe, Jr., association president.

Barrett said the investigation was ordered in response to the request of the association president and directors. In their petition, he added, they spoke of conditions of "vice and gambling" which "have and are seriously damaging the interests of all the people of greater Peoria."

America Facing
Serious Crisis
In Polio Fight

Chicago, Oct. 5.—(AP)—America is now facing its most serious crisis in the fight against poliomyelitis, a spokesman for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said today.

James D. Cunningham, Cook county (Chicago) chairman of the foundation, said the total number of cases reported over the nation already has passed the 18,000 mark and is showing an alarming increase.

Addressing a regional meeting of March of Dimes campaign directors from Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Kentucky, Cunningham said the increasing number of polio cases in many state points to a year's end total of 28,000 cases—an all time high record.

The highest number of cases ever reported in the United States was 27,363 in 1916.

Find Severed Head
Of Woman, Mate
Recognizes Teeth

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 5.—(AP)—A woman's head found today in a remote country road was identified by a Kenmore dentist as that of his wife.

Dr. Howard C. Lindeman, 37, was taken into custody for questioning less than a half hour after he had established identity on the basis of dental work.

Parts of a woman's body have been found during the last two weeks in widely separated sections of western New York.

Cattaraugus county Sheriff Morgan L. Sigel said he believed the head found at Little Valley had been sawed from a torso discovered earlier, but Mrs. Lindeman's mother has told police the torso was not her daughter's.

Mrs. Lindeman, 38, disappeared from her home in suburban Kenmore Aug. 21. She was the mother of a two-year-old daughter.

The head was found in a lonely road near Little Valley, about 40 miles south of here. The torso was found Sunday in a gully near Hinsdale 30 miles southeast of Little Valley.

Young Mountain
Climber Found
Dead On Peak

Quilcene, Wash., Oct. 5.—(AP)—A youthful mountain climber was found dead today on an Olympic mountain peak and a short time later a helicopter used in the search was reported overdue.

The Coast Guard and McChord Field announced they were sending out all their rescue personnel and equipment to search for the missing climber. Three persons were reported aboard. McChord Field officers said the craft could have landed safely in some isolated spot.

A rescue party found 17-year-old Robert Thorson, Bremerton high school student body president, dead on The Brothers peak today—24 hours after he suffered head injuries in a mountain climbing fall.

A doctor estimated he had died an hour after being injured yesterday.

Wealthy Bachelor
Will Preach Own
Funeral Today

Richland Center, Wis., Oct. 5.—(AP)—The voice of Enoch Jewel, who five years ago made all preparations for his death, will be heard for the final time tomorrow at his own funeral service.

The eccentric bachelor, who died Sunday at 86, wrote his own funeral oration and had it recorded in 1943 the same year he purchased his tombstone and had himself photographed beside it. The records system at services from the Pratt both sides of the 10-inch platters—funeral home.

The service will conclude with distribution by his nieces and nephews of 1,000 printed copies of his obituary—also written by Jewel.

Terrific Wind Heading For Vacation Area

Miami, Fla., Oct. 5.—(AP)—A spreading tropical hurricane which killed six persons in Cuba and critically injured more swept menacingly along the Florida Keys tonight toward this rich "gold coast" vacation area.

The storm, packing speed, punch and a flood-creating deluge, ripped across Cuba with winds up to 132 miles an hour. Two hundred persons were treated for injuries at hospitals and losses in Cuban crops were estimated at $6,000,000.

The first hurricane winds on the mainland were reported at Homestead where they blew at 75 miles an hour at 4 p.m. Alligator Reef, farther south in the Florida keys, reported 90-mile velocity.

Storm Will Pass Over Miami
The eye of the storm "should pass very near or directly over Miami," forecasters said. They added that the spreading out of the storm over a wider area was pulling the wind velocity down.

Winds were increasing rapidly at Miami and sheets of rain fell. Fears that floods will approach disaster proportions in South Florida, especially in the rich winter vegetable growing area, were expressed by authorities.

The weather bureau said the center probably would pass to sea shortly after crossing Miami.

Red Cross headquarters at Washington estimated 5,000 persons were evacuated from the path of the storm and housed in Red Cross shelters in six towns.

Two trains were evacuated from the threatened Lake Okechobee area to pick up evacuees. The area has not yet recovered from the effects of the mid-September storm. Authorities feared serious flood conditions may result from the present storm.

Five to eight inches of rain were predicted for South Florida. Shelters were being used in Miami, Winter Haven, Avon Park, Lake Wales, Lakeland, Lake Placid and Sebring.

Fifteen Red Cross disaster workers from Atlanta moved to Key Points in the storm's path.

The storm threw its full weight at Cuba and lost some of its impact in crossing the island. Three persons were killed in and near Havana by collapsing houses. Three others, including two young girls, were killed at Azoto, in Western Cuba.

Communications Disrupted
Disrupted communications made it impossible to assess at once the full damage or possible loss of life in the interior of the island where construction is flimsy.

Miami was boarded up. Residents who ventured out during the morning to work, left hurriedly for home about noon when a solid cloud mass brought twilight to the city usually sparkling under a brilliant sun. Deluges of rain fanned by the wind knocked out visibility. Low streets were flooded. Biscayne Bay was churned to a foamy mass.

Gov. Millard F. Caldwell authorized mobilization of a Florida National Guard company at Fort Lauderdale.

Disorders Flare
Anew In Separate
Sections Of Peru

Lima, Peru, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Disorders flared anew in two widely separated sections of Peru today but loyal government forces quickly restored order.

The new outbreaks were in Arequipa, near the southern tip of the country, and near Parangara, about 110 miles north of Lima. In both instances, armed civilian bands attempted to storm army barracks but without success.

Today's clashes came as President Jose Luis Bustamante Rivero cracked down on the Arpa party which he blamed for the attempted revolution which started in Callao, Lima's seaport, Sunday. The president declared the party illegal.

Order was completely restored in Callao after loyal troops forced the surrender of rebellious naval leaders.

THE BATTLING AGAINST FIRE

With national fire losses approaching a staggering $750,000,000 annually, the nation has begun its observance of National Fire Prevention Week, October 3 through 9, with fire safety campaigns in thousands of communities to save lives, jobs, and property.

Ten thousand lives are lost in fires each year. Most of them could be saved by community action, President Truman has pointed out in his official Fire Prevention Week proclamation.

Fire destruction in the United States during the 12 months ending June 30, 1948 was $709,839,000 or nearly 3 1/2 times as great as the devastation caused in any one year by the Luftwaffe's blitz on Britain. It was nearly twice as much as the fire loss for the entire year 1943, and 12 per cent greater than the losses for the previous 12 months ending June 30, 1947.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters emphasizes that these statistics reflect only the direct property losses from fires. Indirect losses are probably three times as great, the National Board estimates. These include fire fighting costs, hospital bills, loss of jobs and production, business failures, reduction in community buying power, and reductions in savings.

Fires attack about 600,000 buildings a year, about 260,000 of them dwellings, 56,000 stores and shops, 48,500 apartments and rooming houses, 31,700 manufacturing plants, 10,200 restaurants and taverns, and 3,600 theaters and amusement places. About 75,000 fires occur annually in motor vehicles.

Effective action by local communities can reverse the upward trend of losses, as has been proved by dozens of campaigns in various cities. The Presidential proclamation asked civic organizations to unite in efforts to help reduce the number of fires and to save lives, jobs, and property.

COMMUNICATION

Jacksonville Journal Courier, Jacksonville, Ill.
Gentlemen:
In several issues of your paper, articles have been printed discussing the proposed Community Unit School Election to be held on Saturday, October 9. These articles have been submitted by the Morgan County Survey Committee. As yet no articles have been published listing some of the disadvantages, not so much regarding consolidation, but pertaining to our own School District and others within the County in the same position.

Practically all of the benefits mentioned by the Survey Committee resulting from consolidation and reorganization have already been achieved in our District.

We feel that if this election carries, our initial progress and efforts will be lost, and that during the coming year, our Board of Education would be greatly handicapped in carrying out its future plans.

The proposed plan has never been approved by the Cass County Survey Committee. At present, there are five attendance units in Cass County within District No. 27.

We feel that because of so many conflicting community interests in all of the various areas, there would be considerable dissatisfaction among the people, no matter how efficiently the schools were operated.

Very truly yours,
Warren Brookhouse,
President of Board of Education
A. Hunter Chapman,
Superintendent.

Boyle's Column

They Should Treat Boxers Like Human Beings....

By Hal Boyle
New York—(AP)—The neat, middle-aged little man had sad, bloodshot eyes, and he rapped his heart with the force of a blow.

"I don't know how you say it," he said to Ted Snits, Associated Press sports editor, "but I have things in here I want to say. It is on my conscience like...."

And the rest was hard to understand, because his Puerto Rican emotion filtered through a veil of broken English.

The little man said he was Tony Rojas, fight manager and Latin American sports promoter. Wordlessly he held out a letterhead.

It was printed in purple ink and it showed the picture of a clean-cut, tawny-skinned boy in boxing trunks, fists poised wide apart. That was Kid Dinamita, 147, and the purple sheet of stationery said he was "the sensational welterweight champion of Central America, AUTENTIC."

But Rojas doesn't manage him any more. The Kid died last Wednesday night in Chicago after a fight.

Rojas looked silently at the letterhead. Then slowly he began to find the words he had walked into the office to say.

Should Be More Padded In Ring
"What I want to say is.... boxers.... they should be treated like human beings. There should be padding in the ring.... more padding.... not enough now. Not enough for the cushion when the fighter he fall over backward.... that sometime do more than the punch."

That was what happened, said the little man, when The Kid was fatally hurt in his fight with Bobby McQuillar of Port Huron, Mich. A Chicago coroner's jury found Dinamita's death was accidental and recommended two chances in the Illinois boxing code to keep physically unfit fighters from the ring.

"The Kid was knocked down in the seventh," said the little man. "When he came to his corner.... he was weak. We revive him, and I told him.... keep away from the other fighter.... to clinch."

"He was strong again when he went out for the eighth. The people, they start to boo him.... he does not clinch anymore.... he start to.... what you say?—mix it.... yes, he mix it."

Never Came Out For 8th
"When the round is over we get him back to his corner.... he is still conscious. But he say his shoulders.... they are very tired."

"So I tell him.... take it easy.... see his legs, they are trembling.... The Kid never came out for the ninth, and lost on a technical knock-out."

"The Kid saw he is all right," said the little man, his voice thickening. "But when he stand up.... I see he cannot carry his weight.... So we put him in the stretcher.... I am talking to him on the way to the hospital.... The Kid laughs.... That afternoon—before the fight—he had talked only about his family.... about going home for Christmas. But in the ambulance he talk only about fighting.... About how he will win the next fight okay."

Talked Natural
"But he talk natural.... very natural.... it look like nothing wrong.... I didn't believe he going soon be deceased."

The little man said that at first they wouldn't let him into the hospital room where the Kid was being given emergency treatment, but he insisted.

"When I got inside I see on the right arm something like a transfusion.... There was a tank and two things going into his mouth."

"The Kid was going like this...." Rojas drew in and expelled his breath violently.

"Out of his mouth was coming the saliva.... white.... hardly any blood."

"Later they took me out, because I don't know why. I got some coffee. When I come back they tell me his pulsation—you know, his pulse.... it is slow.... and they wouldn't let me go in."

"Then the doctor come out. I ask him how is The Kid. He tell me this way...."

"He's Gone.... The Kid"
Rojas waved his hands across his face, palms out.

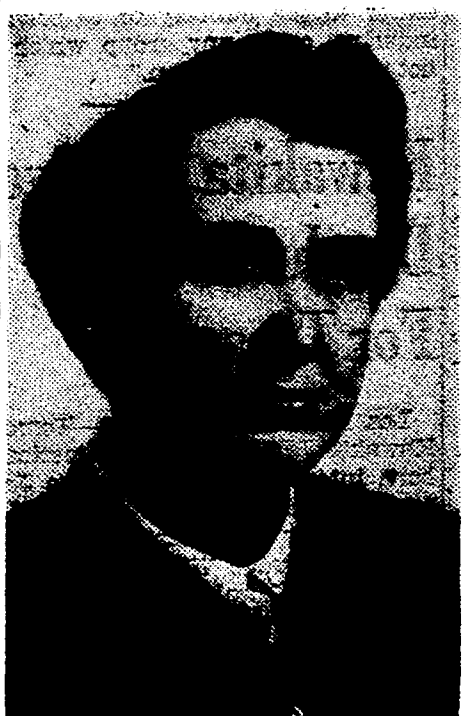

"He's gone.... The Kid."
"I didn't break down.... so I go in and saw him. A couple of nurses they are washing him. They tell me to get out. I ask the doctor what he die of.... he say maybe head injuries.... they have to have autopsy.... Then I break down."

The little man turned to leave the

Mrs. Foreman To Direct Residence District Workers

Mrs. Orville N. Foreman of 1313 Mound avenue will be chairman of the residential division of the Morgan County Community Chest campaign. This announcement was made Tuesday by Dr. Frank Marston, general chairman of the campaign.

Mrs. Foreman has been active in civic affairs and similar campaigns in previous years. She is now the chairman of the Girl Scout Council.

MRS. ORVILLE FOREMAN

She plans to divide the division into five sections, one for each of the four city wards, and one for South Jacksonville. The ward chairman will in turn appoint block workers of sufficient number to canvass every house in the city. The division will have the task of soliciting pledges from every resident of the homes in the city and South Jacksonville.

This portion of the drive will not interfere with the usual canvass in the business area, but will serve as a check to be sure everyone in the city is given the opportunity to give.

Auto Dealers Of City Talk Plans For Membership

Plans for obtaining one hundred per cent membership among local automobile dealers in the National Automobile Dealers Association and Illinois Automotive Association were discussed Monday night at a meeting of the Jacksonville Auto Dealers at Hamilton's cafe.

Two new members for the national association and one for the state association were obtained at the meeting.

Members engaged in a discussion of collection of old accounts. Plans were talked for organization of a Jacksonville and Morgan county safety council. Appointment of a committee will be made at the next meeting.

Guests included Bennie Koonce, Gilbert Steinberg, J. H. Kistner and Herman Baker.

Hayden Walker, who was recently appointed by the national association as local chairman for its nationwide membership drive, announced that Frank Corrington has been named to serve as a member of the NADA committee here.

CROSS COUNTRY CLUB NAMES MRS. BURRUS ACTING PRESIDENT

At its first meeting of the fall season, the Cross Country Junior Women's club elected Mrs. Marie Burrus to act as president in place of Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, who resigned that office. Mrs. Burrus was formerly vice president.

Because of its small membership, the club voted to remain non-federated.

Meetings are held on the third Wednesday of each month. The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Norma Charlesworth on October 20.

TEACHER

Remember when school teachers boarded around. Their salaries were small then and they were dependent on their pupils to ask them home for supper and to spend the night. It was hard on teacher, but boarding around gave her a chance to become acquainted with her pupils' home environment and she was a better teacher for it.

Propose Seining Of Lake Mauvaisterre

Do the big, bad fish gobble up so many little, innocent fish in Lake Mauvaisterre that the cversize finny villains should be seined out?

Do bass, crappie, and other aristocratic fish thrive in waters where they never encounter a hungry carp or buffalo, or do they multiply faster when they are forced to fight their own battles?

These, among other questions concerning the propagation and culture of fish, are expected to be answered by an expert at a meeting of the city council in the near future.

Councilmen got to talking about the welfare of bass, crappie and pan-fish when Alderman Kelly announced that commercial fishermen have asked to seine Lake Mauvaisterre in advance of restocking by the Illinois Department of Conservation.

It seems that the state department will not place juvenile bass and crappie in lakes which have not been seined for rough fish. The lake at Nichols Park was seined last summer, qualifying for fish from the state hatcheries.

Removal of hundreds of pounds of carp and buffalo from the park lake kicked up a lot of argument. Many fishermen objected to the removal of so many big ones, while others argue that if the rough fish weren't taken out the smaller ones would be "let up."

Some of the points of these arguments were revived by council members. The aldermen did not take a vote on the subject but decided to consult a qualified authority. Alderman Kelly said a conservation department agent will be glad to meet with the council.

As a council session next week is not probable since the members expect to attend the Illinois Municipal League convention at Springfield, two weeks may pass before the fish question receives official consideration again.

In the meantime the more genteel fish in Lake Mauvaisterre will have to be on guard for their own safety. The carp and buffalo will get them if they don't watch out!

Some prairie dogs burrows descent 14 or 15 feet.

THE LOVES OF CARMEN
By SOPHIE KERR
Copyright, 1948, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Don Jose, young officer in a fashionable Spanish regiment has just come to Seville from the countryside of Navarre. On his first day in the city, a gorgeous gypsy girl darts with him, then disappears. Some days later he is on duty in the square with his friend, Andres, when he sees her again. Andres greets her warmly as Carmen, but her glances are all for Jose. Shortly afterwards the Carmen gets into a street brawl with another woman and knifes her. Jose is ordered to take her prisoner. He does so but she prevails upon him to let her escape. As a result, Jose gets extra guard duty and is confined to barracks for 30 days. On the last night of his extra duty, he is handed to see Carmen attend a party at the colonel's house. She turns his questions aside, hints that he meet her at Lillia Pastia's in about an hour.

VIII
AN ancient gypsy woman, looking more evil for her dirt and wrinkles than any witch, stood at the food counter beside a primitive charcoal-burning stove. Fish was sizzling in a pan.

Lounging against the counter near the stove were three equally dirty, equally sinister-looking men. One was Remondado, the fatalist; another Pablo, the informer, and the third Dancaire, the philosopher. Dancaire was the only one of the three who was not a gypsy. All were chewing big mouthfuls of fried fish, holding more in their hands and wiping grease from their faces on their sleeves as they wolfed the food down. These were the bandit men of the Andalusian hills—vicious, dirty, amoral. The three of them were interchangeable, differing only in degrees of disposition, and they stood where they stood through the accident of delinquent society which had not found the time to move them at the gallows.

THE door burst open violently, crashing into the wall. Carmen entered, looking very pleased with herself. "The smell of that fish frying reminds me that if an old trout who calls himself a colonel comes in, I am not here." She waved her arm vaguely. "I have gone to Portugal or some place." She picked a nought from the counter and bit into it. "He promised not to come here tonight, but men are such liars."

The old crone said, "What about Andres?" "Who?" "You knew his name yesterday." "Oh. Tell him I have gone to Gibraltar."

She passed the three men, nodding at them casually. There was something evasive in her attitude toward them. They let her go by, waiting for her to speak. When she did not, Dancaire said, in voice deceptively soft, "Carmen. She stopped but did not turn around."

"Was the colonel's party successful, Carmen?" She turned slowly. Then, sullen and for some reason defiant, she spat, "It was very stupid."

"Was it successful?" She hesitated, looking back at the three men with narrowed eyes as though calculating just how much she could hold out on them. Pablo said, "We must have another two hundred duros to get Garcia out of jail."

"Let him stay where he is then," Carmen answered indifferently. Dancaire, with mock reproach, said, "Is that any way for a loving wife to speak about her husband?"

Carmen swung her eastanets with a vicious jerk. "Let him rot there!" Pablo grinned. "We'll tell him. He'll be so pleased to hear that you said that."

"Pleased enough to cut her throat," Remondado said.

CARMEN began to pull loot from hiding places in her bosom, her belt and her petticoats. Loot she had stolen at the party. She handed the things over to Dancaire—two watches, a brooch, a stickpin. "There, thief, you are welcome."

"Is this all?" "I left the party early."

She turned away abruptly, and as she turned, a bag of coins fell to the floor with a clatter from somewhere in her clothing. Carmen looked over her shoulder and then up at the men, furious, startled, that they had caught her cheating. Dancaire smiled, amused. With pretended indifference, Carmen pushed the coins toward them with the toe of her slipper, as though they were bits of garbage. Then, just as suddenly, she changed her mind. She kicked at the money viciously.

The three men were scrambling on their hands and knees for the coins, and Remondado said cheerfully, "Did you ever notice that every man who does business with Carmen winds up groveling on his knees like a mongrel dog?"

Board Of District 27 Opposes School Unit Proposal Up Saturday

The board of education of Community Unit School District 27, located in the northwest section of Morgan county and extending into Cass county, issued a statement Tuesday in opposition to the proposed community or county consolidation of schools which will be voted on at an election next Saturday, Oct. 9.

Members of the board of the community unit, which includes schools in the Arenzville, Chapin, Concord and Meredosia communities, declared that formation of a larger unit such as is proposed would work hardship with their district.

Many Farms Finish Planting Of Wheat For 1949 Harvest

A high percentage of the farmers of west central Illinois have completed sowing winter wheat. The condition of seedbeds is almost perfect, with most fields "working like a garden."

Some winter wheat planted before the "fly-free dates," Oct. 1-2, has sprouted, with the green spikes of the young plant showing fast growth. See More Wheat Acres

Most observers say there will be a slightly increased acreage of wheat sown this year. This is largely due, they point out, to the price support price of around $2 promised to producers at harvest time next year.

The support price has been set at 90 per cent of parity. The Aug. 15 parity price for wheat was $2.22 but it is expected to be slightly higher when the agricultural economists release the new figures on Oct. 15.

The early soybean harvest also has encouraged a greater wheat acreage. Many farmers, especially those anxious to raise more clover, have plowed their combined soybean fields and planted wheat to serve as a nurse crop for next year's legumes.

Super Phosphate Applied

Based on the experiences of the past few years, many of the producers have applied super phosphate to the land just ahead of the drill. Amounts spread vary from 100 pounds up to 300 pounds per acre. This slight addition has proved very profitable lately on most farms, resulting in higher yields and better quality grain.

The chemical evidently contributes much to the plumpness and the weight of the individual berries.

Pawnee, Prairie and Clarkan varieties are being planted extensively again this season. A good acreage, however, has been seeded with Royal, the new University of Illinois soft winter wheat.

The small acreages of rye planted in August and September are showing good growth. Some of them are already serving as pastures for hogs and cattle; others are being saved for spring grazing.

Fall alfalfa seedings are generally good.

Toastmasters Seat New Officers At Meeting Tuesday

The Jacksonville Athenian Toastmasters of Toastmasters International set the stage for another six months by installing officers Tuesday evening at its regular evening meeting at the Dunlap hotel.

The outgoing president, Howard Brown, introduced Dallas Schultz as installing officer.

Those installed were: president, William Zoph; vice president, T. J. Fairburn; secretary-treasurer, Roy E. Warner; sergeant-at-arms, Dr. Gerald Richardson; and publicity director, the Rev. R. J. Campbell. President Brown then introduced Dr. L. K. Hallock, club statistician, who reported the standings relative to the Dallas Mae trophy, and announced that T. J. Fairburn was the winner of the coveted award. President Brown, holder of the trophy during the last six months period, presented it to Mr. Fairburn.

Dr. Gerald Richardson was then introduced as the toastmaster of the evening. He presented in turn the Rev. R. J. Campbell, T. J. Fairburn, and Frank Smith speakers of the evening. The former was voted best speaker of the evening.

The evaluators were Howard Brown and Roy E. Warner. The general critic was Alvin A. Otto. The time-keeper was Macy Hall.

The impromptu session was conducted by Dallas Schultz.

President Brown, outgoing president, was presented a past-president's pin in recognition of his service to the club. The incoming president presided during the last part of the meeting, announcing his committees for the period and the slate for the Oct. 12 meeting as follows: toastmaster, Bert Bishop; speakers Brooks Byus, Macy Hall, Alvin Otto, Roy E. Warner; impromptu, William Zoph; evaluators, Gerald Cassens and Victor Sheppard; general critic, John Hadden.

Ralph Wilson of MacMurray college attended as a guest.

GIRL FRACTURES ARM IN FALL FROM HORSE

Meredosia.—Doris Rausch, daughter of Albert Rausch, suffered a compound fracture of her arm Sunday when she fell from a horse at the home of her grandmother. She is in a Jacksonville hospital.

The newly re-organized Meredosia volunteer fire department trained on Friday and Sunday. Chief Standley said that a good drill was held, but that a larger attendance would have made it better.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks for the many kind expressions of sympathy, also for the lovely flowers, use of cars and all who assisted us in so many ways. Also Rev. Cox and Rev. Leonard for their comforting words that meant so much to us in the tragic death of our dear son and brother Paul.

C. E. Keenan, W. T. Keenan and family, Carl D. Evans and family.

LET US RESOLVE

That each of us has a stake in preventing fires.

Some careless act of an individual starts almost every fire. All of these fires add up to the devastating loss of property which is sweeping the country. Besides, 10,000 persons die from fire in America each year. Many times that number are injured.

If everyone were careful, very few fires would occur.

I will resolve:

To see that matches and cigarettes are OUT before discarding them.

To have no inflammable rubbish or litter on the premises.

To keep fires and heating equipment in safe repair.

To avoid use of gasoline for cleaning.

To NEVER use kerosene for starting fires.

To turn off current when leaving an electric iron.

To have all electrical work done by someone who knows how.

To keep in mind always the danger of fire and to practice fire-safe habits at all times.

JOHN H. CRAIG, State Fire Marshal.

Two Large Jacksonville Gas Consumers May Be Affected By Cutbacks

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line company has ordered new curtailments of natural gas deliveries to industrial users on interruptible contracts, the Illinois Commerce Commission said today.

The Commission was notified that Panhandle has directed three utilities—Central Illinois Public Service, Central Illinois Light and Illinois Electric and Gas—to put a 50 percent cutback into effect immediately.

In addition, the pipe line firm notified Illinois Power to extend the 50 percent curtailment to all interruptible customers. Previously, the reduction had applied only to 15 industrial users supplied by Illinois Power in Decatur, Champaign and Danville.

Illinois Power two weeks ago completed temporarily with the cutback but later restored full service at the direction of the State Commerce Commission. The Federal Power Commission filed suit last week to make Illinois Power obey the curtailment order.

E. S. Hight, vice president of Illinois Power, said today his firm takes the position that the Illinois Commerce Commission's directive to ignore the original Panhandle order also applies to the new curtailment.

All four utilities involved in the dispute get their natural gas supply from Panhandle.

Commerce Commission and utility officials said the following interruptible customers would be affected by the new curtailment:

Central Illinois Light—Keystone Steel and Wire Co., Caterpillar Tractor Co., and Commercial Solvents Co., all of Peoria.

Central Illinois Public Service—International Harvester at Canton.

Central Illinois Electric and Gas—Lincoln Glass Bottle Co., Lincoln.

Illinois Power—Abington Pottery, National Enameling and Stamping Co., Jacksonville, and MacMurray College at Jacksonville. The school gets some gas for its heating plant.

The State Commerce Commission was informed of Panhandle's action as it began an investigation of the natural gas situation in Illinois as it affects interruptible contracts.

Panhandle contended its cutback order was taken in order to meet contract requirements in Michigan and Ohio.

Breeders Of Scott County To Discuss New Plan Friday

Winchester.—A meeting will be held in the Farm Bureau building here at 8:00 p. m. Friday, Oct. 8 to sign contracts for the artificial insemination of dairy cows.

An effort was made sometime ago to form an artificial insemination unit in Scott and Morgan county. It was necessary however, to contract 1,000 cows and as this figure was not reached the program failed.

Farm Adviser Robert Slayton reports that it is now possible for Scott county farmers to take advantage of this service through the facilities of the White Hall unit.

Lloyd Lorton, technician from the White Hall unit, will be present Friday evening to explain the program.

The semen used will be from bulls owned by the Southern Illinois Breeding Association. These bulls are of the Holstein, Jersey and Guernsey breeds and all have proven to sire high producing daughters. Brown Swiss semen will also be available in a few months.

Every interested farmer in Scott county is urged to attend the meeting.

"John Loves Mary" Sponsored Here By Kiwanis Club

Fresh from a successful run on Broadway comes the stage play, "John Loves Mary," which will be presented in the auditorium of Jacksonville High school on Monday, Oct. 18, under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis club.

Written by Norman Krasha, who also wrote "Dear Bush," the play has been cited as one of the most deft and entertaining comedies of the Modern American theatre. Its merits are reflected in the fact that it was chosen by the late Burns Mantle, dean of drama critics, for inclusion in his yearly publication, "The Ten Best Plays of the Season."

Having concluded a two-year run at the Henry Miller theatre in New York City, the play is currently being staged at the Harris theatre in Chicago and, after six months there, will be run in Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and other major cities.

The play has to do with an attractive young man, engaged to an equally attractive young woman, who obligingly marries a young English girl, with whom his buddy has been deeply in love. He does this simply to enable the girl to come to America, after which he plans a speedy divorce in order that he will be free to marry his fiancée, and the girl to marry her wartime sweetheart. Complications set in with the news that the buddy has married another girl. Tickets for this event are already on sale and may be obtained from any Kiwanian. Pre-sale tickets can be exchanged for reserve seats after 9 a. m. Monday, Oct. 11, at Grant's.

A. Wadsworth Applebee is general chairman.
